Online Health & Safety Legislation

Stay on top of evolving legislation with our Online Health and Safety Legislation course. Ensure your organisation remains compliant with the latest regulations, reducing legal risks and promoting a culture of safety.

This comprehensive course provides learners with an in-depth understanding of health and safety legislation, duty holders, and the regulator WorkSafe NZ.

- Introduces New Zealand's health and safety legislative framework including the Health and Safety at Work Act 2015, regulations, and safe work instruments. Outlining the different duty holders like PCBU's, officers, workers and others.
- Examines the specific responsibilities of duty holders and requirements for worker representation, participation and engagement.
- Covers the role and powers of the regulator WorkSafe NZ including education, engagement and enforcement. It details notification requirements for notifiable events.

Overall, the course enables learners to gain a holistic understanding of the health and safety legislative environment. They will understand the legal duties, systems, and processes workplaces must have to ensure the health and safety of workers and others. The role of the regulator WorkSafe NZ is made clear in supporting, guiding and enforcing safe work practices.
